A week long celebration of community events in Stockbridge

Welcome to Stockfest 2014, a week-long celebration of community events in Stockbridge. The festival celebrates the area's vibrant, eclectic shopping and dining scene as well as showcasing the immense vitality and creativity in the area. The events have been created by our local community: - both residents and traders. There are over 40 events including a Community Ceilidh, StockDish, StockDog, guided walks, a vintage and craft market, shopping evenings, library events, music and art and much more...

We hope you will enjoy all that Stockfest 2014 has to offer and support the hard work and effort of all involved!

Kellan MacInnes:

Climbing the Scottish Mountains Visible from Arthur's Seat (illustrated talk)

Saturday September 27 / 1.30pm - 2.30pm

Kellan MacInnes is an emerging Scottish writer. His first book Caleb's List, Climbing the Scottish Mountains Visible from Arthur's Seat (Luath Press) was shortlisted for the 2013 Saltire Society Scottish First Book of the Year Award. More than just a climbing book, Caleb's List is the story of a survivor. Be inspired as Kellan MacInnes tells the story of how he discovered Victorian mountaineer Caleb George Cash's long forgotten list of Scottish mountains visible from Arthur's Seat and talks about what led him to take on the challenge of climbing the hills on Caleb's list.

Military History Talk: "Sixty Battles" - A talk on Napoleon and His Art of War

Monday September 22 / 6pm - 8pm (with intermediate break)

Did Napoleon really fight sixty battles and know nothing at the end that he did not know at the beginning?

Though he said as much himself, military history author and enthusiast Ricky Phillips takes us on a tour of Napoleon's first and last campaigns to discover if this really was true. Using maps, quotes and descriptions, discover for yourself the military science of Napoleon; his genius, his victories and why ultimately he lost at Waterloo in 1815.

This is a talk for everyone, from laymen to experts, young and old, who is interested in history. After talk refreshments will also be served.
