WELCOME TO THE HANGING CAPTAIN

A small, framed poster or notice is mounted on the wall to the right of the entrance. It features a central image and some text, though the details are not clearly legible.

Following the hugely successful production of "Persevere", part of last year's Gretna 100 Project, Active Inquiry's Flashback Drama group and Strange Town Young Company join forces again to explore the history of Leith docks. This inspirational play reflects some of the hidden stories and voices of Leith docks. Set in the fictional Leith pub, 'The Hanging Captain', the audience will be taken on a voyage through time, as stories of the Dockers' involvement in the whaling industry, the 'Darien Scheme' and the strikes of 1913 unfold.

WANT TO GET INVOLVED?

This is the first part of 'Leith Moves' - an Out of the Blue Heritage Lottery Fund supported project examining the history of Leith docks. From September 2016 as more stories are gathered, we will devise a new and exciting theatre production about the people of Leith docks which will be performed in late 2017.
