About Imagineate

Imagineate is the national organisation in Scotland which develops, presents and celebrates professional theatre and dance for children and young people.

We want more children in Scotland to experience work that is deeply engaging, innovative and inspiring, regardless of their circumstances, access needs or location.

Our work falls into three interwoven strands:

- ★ The Edinburgh International Children's Festival: an annual celebration of exceptional theatre and dance for young audiences, attracting over 15,000 people each year.
- ★ A year-round programme working with schools and communities to inspire children and teachers through live performance, including long term artist-led projects and residencies, as well as Theatre in Schools Scotland, a national touring programme of shows specially designed for school settings, in partnership with National Theatre of Scotland.
- ★ A programme to support the creative development of artists and freelancers involved in the young audiences sector, including residencies, workshops, mentoring, professional development programmes and international projects year-round.

Help support our work

As a charity, we rely on public and private funding as well as the generosity of individuals to fulfil our mission.

Walangaan

Théâtre de la Guimbarde
Belgium/Senegal

Walangaan – flowing water in Wolof – tells the story of the water cycle. Water that quenches, water that trickles over the skin, water that splashes, water that cleanses, water that sings, water that rocks, water that gushes. And water that, sometimes, increasingly, runs out.

A singer and a percussionist from Senegal follow the course of the water, revealing its sounds and playing with their voices and bodies, from the drop to the downpour, from the splash to the waterfall. Little by little, to the sound of the handpan, they build a small enchanted world of fountains, basins, faucets, and pourers – a luminous universe that reflects the gentle sensation of a baby's first bath and becomes the mirror of intimate emotions.

Wow! is a physical and musical performance that reveals the world through the eyes of toddlers, who delight in everyday objects and situations.

Ordinary things that appear mundane or challenging turn out to be much more interesting, exciting, and beautiful than we initially think.

Using colourful and multi-sized honeycomb paper books that unfold like fans or accordions, the performers explore endless possibilities, inviting us into their world of play, wonder and delight.

“The performers have a wonderful chemistry... evident in their interaction with the paper worlds they create...”

Duration: 35 min

BasarKus is like no other creature. He has two heads and many arms and several legs. He is happy playing the guitar with four hands, rolling about and juggling.

But BasarKus isn't one but two! As the performers realise they are separable, they start exploring their own special talent, as acrobat and juggler. Like inquisitive children, they learn from each other and form new mischievous combinations. Their games help them discover their own body and identity, and the wonder of growing up.

Teater Refleksion, Andy Manley and De Røde Heste Denmark and Scotland

Co-produced with Catherine Wheels, in association with Randers Teater

One seed, two men – three lives and a budding beginning.

Two men need to look after a tiny seed; it is their job to nurture this small life and help it blossom. But as every new parent knows, this is no easy task.

When a sheep wants to nibble its leaves, how do you protect it?

When techno tracks replace lullabies, how do you accept the change?

And as the seedling becomes a sapling and needs to branch out, how do you let go?

In Time is a playful, gentle, and highly visual show that through humour and absurdist touches, shares the joys and frustrations of parenting a new life.

Gretel

Quattrox4 Company
Italy

Gretel lives in a tiny house, surrounded by small and precious objects: a tray, a teapot, a plant, a stool to sit on. She is absent-minded but rigorous, meticulously sticking to her bizarre logic in a world where everything is out of scale and out of place.

But a catastrophe suddenly destroys her home, and Gretel must make her new path alone.

Inspired by fairy tale themes of loss and the search for home, the performer blends contemporary circus, dance, and the manipulation of objects to celebrate migration and the need for reinventing ourselves when everything falls apart.

It is a joyful and profound reflection on the meaning of home and a tribute to determination and perseverance.

“In addition to her clowning and object manipulation skills, Clara Storti is a top-notch aerial rope artist”

Cheeky Zippy Violette

Théâtre des 4 Mains / La Datcha
Belgium

Sent to the attic to think things over, Violette find herself surrounded by memories of her grandpa: his farewell party, the scary stories he used to tell her at night and even their crazy pickle recipes.

So she decides to send him a letter to the moon, to tell him about the intense emotions and questions that make up her daily life. Where do you go when you're dead? Can you have two crushes at once? Since I can see the moon, does that mean it's closer than Spain?

From sea storms to lunar landings, Violette dives into her wild imagination with humour and tenderness to bring everyday objects to life, and draws the audience into accomplices in her whirlwind adventure.

"Elevates mischief to art"

Le Soir

Mirkids

Prototype Status / Cie Jasmine Morand
Switzerland

Mirkids is a feast for the eyes and the imagination. The audience lies on the stage around a cylindrical structure, gazing at a suspended mirror and glimpsing dancers reflected on its surface. Here an arm, there a leg, disconnected and multiplied. In sync, with a geometric rhythm, body parts create mesmerising shapes like the vibrant patterns of a kaleidoscope: symmetrical, fluid, enigmatic and forever-changing.

This stunning dance production is a fascinating visual spectacle that fires our imagination and invites us to marvel at what (literally) unfolds before us.

MODO GROSSO

Belgium

How can we make people see, feel and grasp the passing of time using movements?

Circus artist Alexis Rouvre takes up this challenge in his circus of objects. Juggler of time, rather than gravity, he manipulates a variety of simple materials to astonishing effect. Using chains, needles and wool, volcanic stones, sand and magnets, he creates a poetic work of wonder which defies the laws of physics. A magical ballet of hanging objects, flying and tumbling down.

Produced by Catherine Wheels, commissioned by Imagineate, created in association with National Theatre of Scotland and supported by Assembly

Two friends perform a breathtaking aerial show. They fly, spin, hang from the rooftops and fall out of the sky... But they weren't always so glorious. How did they transform from feeling like outsiders to the fantastical creatures they always knew they had inside them?

A touching story of a girl who wants to be a monster and a boy who wants to fly. This dynamic and visually stunning aerial show explores the universal yearning to belong and the joy of friendship.

Scotland

Produced by Scottish Theatre Producers, in association with Imagine with support from OneRen

It's Reid Aitken's first day of high school and he just wants to vanish. When an embarrassing incident spirals into a legend known only as "The Creeping Snake", Reid finds himself at the centre of the cruellest joke in school.

Suddenly, the question isn't how to disappear – it's how to survive, and who will stand beside you when everything feels impossible.

Fast-paced, funny, and painfully true, Cringe is a story about surviving the minefield of growing up, standing up to bullies, and finding the friend who makes you braver than you ever thought you could be.

It Would Be Such a Shame if You Missed Out

Theater Artemis & Theater Basel
Netherlands

Do you ever feel that you're missing out? That life is happening outside of your control?

That's how these three characters feel – they are trying to rehearse a play, despite the big party box taking up all the space on stage. Something is going on that they're not part of. It feels like one big, thumping, steaming party, that they can't find the entrance to. They hear the bass, but where's the music coming from? Everyone else seems to know exactly where to go. Or are those just ghosts in their head?

The creators of the 2019 Festival sell-out show Invisible Man returns with an absurdist play full of humour where the most unexpected events take place on stage, and to everyone's delight... with the audience! Will you get invited inside the party box?
